

JACK GARDNER ATTEMPTS COMEBACK

good job

The man doing a ~~big job~~ to increase the nation's food supply is former Heavyweight Champion Jack Gardner. He farms 62 acres near Market Harborough, equipped out of his earnings of over 100 in the ring. But ~~as~~ Jack wants a farm ~~of~~ acres, to provide the family with a better living, without having to work every hour that comes. ^{So} he's ~~coming out of~~ ^{leaving} retirement to raise the capital he wants by doing a job or two for Jack Solomons. If he regains the ^{British} Heavyweight Title in the process, so much the better. ^{As yet there is}

5-year-old only child Janet has a marvellous life on the farm, Jack himself works so hard that very little training will make him fighting fit. Grace, Jack's wife, was glad when he left the ring but agrees to the comeback attempt, ^{the} she'll be too busy doing his farm work to see the first fight. Anyway, Grace, you don't mind Jack going back to the game.

~~May the new farm come soon.~~
