All the fun of the sawdust ring was seen by an invited audience of 6,000 lucky school children, having the time of their lives at the Mills Circus. There'll be lots of happy audiences at Olympia but not a happier one than this.

Fredy Knie's Horse was fed-up with the whole business, though how you can expect any normal nag to sleep in that din he doesn't know.

The Two Pepps, ~~can't agree about the best~~ way to get the right stuff through the customs.

Up-The-Pole-Fattini shows how to keep your balance even after a Christmas party.

Right up in the top of the Big Top were those sensational ~~French~~ Sky-Cyclists, The Idalys.

If you're a bit doubtful about how to do the rhumba, learn now in one Chimpanzee lesson.

Now those sure fire favourites Guerre's Musical Sealions.... On headwork alone they'd make rings round those Hungarian footballers.

John, The Wonder Boy of the World, has juggled and balanced his way through lots of countries.

Mills' Mighty Elephants wouldn't hurt a fly, though the average girl might prefer to ~~see the fact demonstrated on a fly~~ take a fly's word for it.
