

Fog almost concealed the Tower on a day that made history.
 Pretty Rosemary Reece was marrying in the Tower Chapel, her father being a Yeoman Warder ~~there~~. Nothing 20 unusual about that; it's a privilege that goes with the job.

But notice the U.S. Marines forming the archway of honour — t
Lovely by Rose as ~~Rosemary~~ came from the chapel on the arm of Corporal Schubert, the first American Marine to get married in the 40 Tower. In olden times the ^{local} ~~Tower~~ speciality was beheading people. Getting married's so much nicer. ~~X~~ The Senior Yeoman Warder present exercised the ancient right of seeing the bride safely off the premises.
