

AUSTRIA WINS INTERNATIONAL SKI CONTEST

The ace ski jumpers of seven countries (this is Matti ~~Pierifainen~~ Pierifainen of Finland) competed in the International Tournament at Bischofshofen, the Austrian jump which rivals the one at Garmisch, just over the German border. (girl) Olaf Bjornstad, the crack Norwegian jumper, leapt 273-feet. Olaf won the European contest at Garmisch in the previous week.

(Woman) ~~Frank~~ Critical onlookers declared that the style (beautifully captured here in slow-motion) was the best on view since the war. Sepp Bradl, Austrian Champion and a big favourite here, delighted the crowd by winning the Contest. His jump of 298-feet was 25-feet longer than Bjornstad's Bravo, Sepp.
