

Brothers, sisters become in-laws, too, at mass wedding

IT was quite a day at Oisterwijk, North Brabant, Holland, when the de Korts and the Bertens turned out for a mass two-family wedding party. . . .

From the de Kort home stepped five sisters and a brother—five brides and a bridegroom.

From the Bertens hearth, four brothers, one sister and a kinsman (Johannes Van Haaren)—five bridegrooms and one bride. Here they all are after the wedding. The small girl in front holds a cushion with the 12 wedding rings—six for the brides, six for their husbands.

Who's who? Here is the number key: 1, Petrus Bertens and Johanna M. de Kort; 2, Adrianus de Kort and Johanna Bertens; 3, Gerardus Bertens and Johanna A. de Kort; 4, Adrianus Bertens and Martina de Kort; 5, Johannes Van Haaren and Lucy de Kort; 6, Franciscus Bertens and Petronella de Kort
