IRELAND BEAT SCOTLAND 6-0

Ireland kicked off at Ravenhill, Belfast, against a Scottish XV who'd crossed the sea full of confidence after grand displays against France and the All Blacks. But no team plays better than their opponents let them and Ireland weren't ~~letting~~ letting very much.

At crowd) Scottish hopes rose high when their clever right-wing,

J. S. Swann, of London Scottish, was baffled on his own side, only to renew ^{an} attack on the left.

- Ireland looked like getting over here, vigorous obstruction stopped them. Welsh referee Vernon Parfitt awarded a penalty against Scotland. But the kick was taken from wide out, and this ~~wasn't a place~~ just wasn't a place-kickers' ^{Raphy} day. The ball never once went between the posts. Star of the Irish side was ^{the} Right-wing Mortell. The Bective Rangers flyer scored the only two tries of the match.

• No goal from the kick, but Ireland deservedly won - six points to nil.
