

ARSENAL BEAT CARDIFF

20

Cardiff kicked off at Highbury. Lucky Arsenal, who've had little of the famous luck this season, were at any rate drawn at home. In the first half there was ~~no~~ nothing to thrill the crowd. Good defence on both sides made the forwards look a poor lot. Two top class centre-^Sforwards were on view, Welsh international Trevor Ford led Cardiff; spearheading Arsenal ~~attack~~ was veteran Tommy Lawton, who's always likely to catch ~~the~~ defenders napping.... Goal-keeper, Ron Howells, kept out of Welsh international ~~S~~ of this season by the brilliance of Kelsey, was in great form.... ^{Quite} /The smartest move of the first half was made by the referee.

Another Lawton attack was frustrated by Howells.

No score at half-time. Already the crowd began to think a replay inevitable.

Just when the Welshmen were thinking they'd win the replay Arsenal won the match. Three-minute before the final whistle right-half Goring passed to Lawton; he quickly brought the ball under control and ~~passed it to the goal~~ scored.
