

THESE MEN RULE RUSSIA

The great Bolshoi Theatre was crammed on the last anniversary of Lenin's death. These films are at last made available by the Russians to show their new masters to the world. Marshal Bulganin is Premier in place of Malenkov, whose policy of producing goods for the people goes by the board. Heavy industry, announced Bulganin, again has priority. In other words, the war-machine comes first. The great meeting was addressed by Communist Party <sup>Gen.</sup> Secretary Khrushchev, now said to be Stalin's most likely successor. He called for a minute's silence, as a tribute to Lenin.
