

ROYAL DIARY

20

Princess Margaret was the guest of the Steel Company of Wales on her visit to Port Talbot. She presented silver drums to the first battalion, The Welch Regiment. The drums were given to the regiment by the Steel Company. In the world war ~~four battalions served with distinction~~ overseas.

*Since then it regt \ 9 in Korea
Hong Kong*

Going on to the Abbey works H.R.H. was shown the melting ~~shop~~ shop and rolling mills.

Opening the King George VI Memorial Club the Princess was attended by the dowager Marchioness of Reading, head of the Womens Voluntary Services. The WVS will adminster and maintain the club, which is for elderly people of the district.

In the Haymarket the Design Centre for British industries was opened by the Duke of Edinburgh. His Royal Highness said that in these highly competitive days manufacturers could hold their place in foreign markest only if their goods looked attractige, as well as being in all other ways, British and best.

The

British Industries Fair was inspected by the Queen and Duke at Olympia. They saw the 8 lb. decorated torch the last runner will carry into the Olympic Games Arena in Melbourne next Nowember. ~~At the stadium~~

20

~~Her Majesty saw a model of~~ an extreme research reactor; more every day matters, then coming down to ~~minphamantawan~~ a wrapping machine. Buy British, is the advice of the B.I.F.