

ENGLAND BEAT BRAZIL? 4-2

Wembley mustered nearly a hundred thousand

For the midweek international, England versus Brazil, Brazil kicked off. The home side, playing in white shirts, ^{once} included that incomparable veteran ^{outside - r/f} Stanley Matthews. Inside two minutes centre-forward Taylor had the ball in the net.

39/7 Two minutes later Taylor centred from the right and it was young Grainger who scored.

53 England began the second half, leading 2-nil. Off ^{Byrne's} ~~Byrne's~~ ^{the post} foot and ~~goalpost~~ Brazil got a lucky goal.

64 Encouraged by one success Brazil soon had another: inside-left Didi Pereira equalised.

Then there was a touch of comedy. ^{A penalty} ~~Apparently~~ given against them, Brazil protested in good style....., Atyeo made a mess of the ~~spot~~ spot-kick, so good international relations were restored.

97 England took the lead when a right-wing pass found Taylor's head, Goal number three.

105 England missed a second penalty, but the issue was put beyond doubt when another centre ~~and Grainger's~~ ^{not headed home by Grainger}

80 England won a thrilling game, 4-2.
