Retiring ~~MAN~~ Supreme Commander ~~of~~ General Gruenther, went to Bonn to say goodbye to Dr. Heuss, Federal German President. ~~and then~~ Then he went to bid farewell to Chancellor Adenauer. Working together these men did much to protect Western Europe.

Holland has brought into service the biggest combined dredger and excavator in the world, capable of moving 53,000 cubic feet per hour., Most of its machinery is electric, driven by heavy diesel engines of 7,200 horse power. A very efficient cutter drills its way into the sand or mud, which is ~~then~~ sucked into the dredger. It is not then taken out to sea and dumped but is, if wanted, forced through pipes at tremendous pressure, perhaps as far as five miles. In this demonstration the sand was pumped on to a nearby shore.

Algeria. No improvement yet in the rebel situation; 36 French ^{owned} ~~owned~~ farms outside Oran were raided by terrorists, ~~54~~ 54 people killed, ~~Women and children~~ 7 scores of sheep 7 cattle

~~was among the victims.~~ Suspects were rounded up after a hundred rebels had been shot. Algerians where possible are being photographed and given identity cards, ~~to~~ ~~to~~ separate law-abiding people from terrorists.

~~The situation in~~ Algeria has become number one problem for France. How to solve it no one yet knows.
