

AMATEUR GOLF: JOHN BEHARRELL YOUNGEST EVER WINNER

Leslie Taylor ^(right) ~~(left)~~ came out with young John Beharrell after lunch four down. The 18-year-old wonder from Sutton Coalfield drove like a master, not a bit put off by the wind and rain that Troon supplied in full measure. Before long on this second half of the 36-hole amateur golf final Taylor was six down. By great golf he reduced Beharrell's lead to two but at the 32nd the youngster was again four up. He sank his putt, to be the winner by five and four.

Proudest woman north of the border was John's mother, a good golfer herself. She plays off 12. What an achievement for her 18-year-old son, the youngest player ever to win the trophy. They say he's a Bobby Jones in the making.
