Beach Wear

Chief among the good things to come for this summer will be a new range of beach wear outfits. In the beautiful setting of the Reard, the Claridges of swimming pools, a number of models went on display, whose appearance speaks for itself. As one can see, everything has been taken care of, even the wireless, for one of the models is wearing an "Aerial Hat" which conjures up all sorts of dreams connected with wireless.

A choice exhibit is the "Sex Appeal" bathing costume, a two-piece costume of which one can only say that it is a very open garment indeed. There is no doubt that between the two-piece bathing suit and the one-piece bathing suit one can give free rein to one's imagination. For those who fancy the more technical approach there are bathing suits to ponder over. One of them is called "Reply to Venus", another "Sioux Eye", but look out for the "Touch Everything" costume for although it may make a striking effect the slightest little breeze is enough to make it shudder. As for "Barrier of my Heart" that speaks for itself. A good summer to look back on.
