

TURBO PROP AIRLINER

MOSCOW STORY

COMET TWO AIRCRAFT

VISCOUNT

AT MOSCOW AIRPORT

7

The ~~Comet~~ and the Viscount at ~~Moscow airport~~ were a source of great interest to privileged Russian officers, particularly ^{THE JET INTAKE +} the undercarriage of the Comet. (27) Mr. Tupolev who designed the TU-104 led the ~~boarding~~ party who went aboard for a look round.

36

And yet more pictures of Moscow itself give new glimpses of a country and a capital that has deliberately hidden itself until now.

54

Gorki Street, one of the main thoroughfares with pedestrians heedless of sparse traffic.

59

The famous Bolshoi Theatre from Sverdlov Square, where people take their ease.

68

The central market is the only place where private enterprise still operates; flowers and vegetables are the greatest luxuries of all. Sometimes we in Britain feel the same.

88

In a special pavilion in the Gorki Park the London fashion group staged a three-weeks parade of British clothes shown by models from the United Kingdom.

103

Perhaps the models are all a ^{81.7} ~~bit~~ ^{WX} for these Russian OS-es but the enthusiasm is there just the same.

119

In the grounds of the Soviet Army Central Club, Mr. Bulganin toasted the guests attending the Russian Air Display.

130

Mr. Molotov was present so was ~~Madame (P)~~ ^{JACQUELINE AURIOL} the famous French airwoman. ^{TOGETHER WITH}

138

~~The American General Twining, British Nigel Birch, Messrs. Bulganin, Kruschév and Malenkov, took up school prefect positions for the photographers,~~
^{THEN} ~~before~~ Mr. Bulganin took Mr. Birch for a trip round the harbour ^a or rouble. ^{3 men in a boat to say nothing of the} It's one of those occasions when you need a life-belt, even though the lake's only seven inches deep.

---ooo000ooo---

2

No. Moscow

Date

(7)

The Comet and the Viscount at Moscow airport were a source of great interest to privileged Russian officers, particularly the undercoaching of the Comet. (27) Mr Tupolev who designed the TU 104 led the boarding party who went aboard for a look round.

(36)

And yet more pictures Moscow itself give new glimpses of a country and a capital that has deliberately hidden itself until now.

(54)

Gorki Street one of the main thoroughfares with pedestrian hedges of sparse traffic.

(59)

The famous Bolshoi Theatre from Sverdlov Square where people take their ease.

(68)

The central market is the only place where private enterprise still operates; flowers and vegetables are the greatest luxuries of all. Sometimes we in Britain feel the same.

88.

In a special pavilion in the Gorki Park the London Fashion Group staged a three weeks parade of British clothes shown by models from the United Kingdom.

103.

Perhaps the models are all a bit ~~with~~ to these Russian O.S.s but the enthusiasm is there just the same.

119.

In the grounds of the Soviet Army Centre Club, Mr Bulgavin hosted the guests attending the Soviet Russian Air Display.

130.

Mr Matotov was present so was Madame? The famous French airwoman.

138.

The American General Twining, Britain's Nigel Birch, Messrs Bulgarian Khrushchev & Malenkov took up school prefect positions for the photographs. Before Mr Bulgavin took Mr Birch for a trip round the harbor a wobble. It's one of those occasions when you need a life-belt even though the lake's only seven inches deep.