

KING FEISAL ROYAL PROGRESS

At Guildhall the Lord Mayor and Corporation tender^{ed} to King Feisal the welcome which by tradition the City of London accords to Monarchs visiting Great Britain.

Accepting the silver casket containing the address of welcome the young, English-educated King of Iraq said he was pleased -

The Comet II was among aircraft king Feisal inspected during a visit to the Odiham R.A.F. Station. His Majesty tried the feel of a Javelin fighter cockpit, before Hunters and Javelins gave a brilliant display in his honour.

At Lancaster House that evening the Queen attended the government's reception to King Feisal. Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, Foreign Minister, was the host. The King's uncle, who is also Crown Prince, was a guest too.... The glittering event was a tribute both by the Royal family and Her Majesty's Government to a popular and much honoured visitor, King Feisal.
