

BAREFOOTED PLAYERS ALL AT SEA

At home the Uganda footballers play barefooted, but only three of them disdained boots when they were welcomed to Loakes Park by Sir Stanley Rouse. When their opponents, Wycombe Wanderers, kicked off the Tourists weren't exactly all at sea but they were put right off their game by the wet, slippery ground, something they've not experienced before.... The 7,000 spectators were hoping Uganda would extend the Wanderers, so there was no wild cheering when the home side scored, through outside right Frank Smith, after twelve minutes.

The visitors are said to be the best team in East Africa. They're expected to give a good account of themselves when they've got used to English turf. In this game they were seven goals down at half time, ~~and lost the match, 10-1.~~
