FLASHES

All the goys of yachting without the danger of having to swim for it were enjoyed in the sand-yacht regatta at Lytham St. Annes. Enthusiast Millett Denning, in a crew of two, sailed the most ambitious craft on view over the Flying Mole, an ideal stretch of sand outside Blackpool. The craft were soon hitting 30 m.p.h. Given the right wind they can touch 60.

It's the only way you can go sailing in rough weather and know that everybody believes you when you say you a bit weren't/seasick.

Hamburg featured quite another kind of regatte. 24 competitors braved the gale sweeping over the river Elbe. The longboat annually. Blue Riband Race is held annungungmann. Some of the sailors must have doubted if they 'd be around to take part next year.

Down thatth .! Il the best Inner Wetness comes first.

You may not believe that one about the horse that played cricket. Nor would you credit that an elephant could go water ski-ing, if you weren't seeing it with your own eyes. "Sunny" is an American circus annimal 3-yr-old. As he tips the beam at over half-a-tom the skis had to be specially made. It took three months to train the animal; "So many" began 2 fore his figure.

30