

SUEZ OR CAPE?

Theseus
~~Theseus~~ returned from the Mediterranean, saw Albion leave Portsmouth on her way there. Relatives of the carrier's crew were saying goodbye some weeks earlier than they'd expected; ~~the ship's~~ ^{Albion's} departure was brought forward by the Suez crisis. The C.-in-C., Portsmouth, Admiral of the Fleet
Sir George Creasy took the salute, ^{as Albion sailed} ~~of the ship's departure.~~

Not only warships have had their plans changed in recent weeks; anchored in Cowes Road when Paramount cameramen took these pictures were 20 ships, now in Government service, awaiting sailing orders. Many other vessels normally Canal users, are going round the Cape. The shipping world is not letting political deadlock put it out of business.
