

FLASHES

Princess Grace and Prince Rainier were on the spotlight when they arrived at the Atlantic City Race track to see the United Nations Handicap. UNO has many handicaps, but this one was only a horse race. It was run over one mile, one and a half furlongs. Perhaps the former Grace Kelly forgot even Monaco for a few minutes in the excitement of being back in America and watching the favourite Career Boy coming up on the outside, to win comfortably. To all appearances the royal money was on the right horse.

The Broncs didn't have things all their own way at the Pendleton Round-up. One cowboy stayed aboard for the prizewinning ten seconds and even began to look as if he were glued on.... The bulls didn't fare much better than the broncs. Either the riggers are getting too clever or the animals ~~ama~~ have joined The SPCC - Society For The Prevention of Cruelty to Cowboys.

President Eisenhower took time out of the election campaign to relax on his Gettysburg farm. As if he could with three grandchildren about. Young David (8) wore a Confederation cap, as worn by the South in the Civil war. Next day the papers asked, Did that show that Ike's <sup>D</sup>~~e~~ ~~am~~ wooing the votes of the Democratic South? Couldn't it just be he and the family were having a good time.

Germany's radio-telescope was inaugurated at Muenstereifel. It won't enable the eye to see stars and planets; it will plot ~~tham~~ their position on a sort of radar screen, going enormously beyond the range of the optical telescope. By this means thousands of new worlds have been discovered, giving astronomers a lot to think about and taking their mind off Wasser.

S J D / V
— D — 18 h 94 —