

Bradford took the field first for the replay of their Fourth Round Cup Tie at the Hawthorns and although West Bromwich were expected to win they came surprisingly near to defeat at the hands of the second Division side.

West Bromwich won the toss and Bradford kicked off to start a game in which they showed all the cleverness of their redoubtable opponents --- the skill that has already taken the Albion to Wembley. The first goal came to the Albion through a foul on W.G. Richardson, at the end of the first half. Sandford sent the ball in from a penalty

Soon after the interval Meek equalised for Bradford. . . .

Extra time was played but the result was another draw 1 -- 1.
