

SPORT ))))))) CRICKET.

This week end was a pageant of sport, and for the Test Match England's new captain G.O.Allen won the toss against Vizianagram of the All-India. Allen put them in, but he started bowling and soon put all India all out --- there's Amar Singh caught --- by Langridge --- and the total for their first innings was a very moderate 147. So England had no difficult task to face when they went in to bat but wickets fell swiftly. There's Turnbull bowled. In fact the left-handed Leyland was the only ~~man~~ batsman to make a decent score on the first day --- he made sixty. The England score at Close of Play was 132 for 7 --- They should have gone in for golf.

GOLF.

Britain kept a firm hold on the Open Golf Title although Henry Cotton came off the reel. Gene Sarazen was the nearest American to --- hey, it's not tennis --- nearest to the leaders, but Alfred Padgham played four magnificent rounds for a total of 287. Sir Percy Bates the Cunard Chief presented the Cup -- perhaps sometime Padgham'll give him the Blue Riband.
