

SECOND CORONATION REHEARSAL.

Londoners rise with the dawn these days ~~xxx~~ when the Coronation procession is rehearsed. The difference between a fifty guinea seat and a free one is that you have to climb a wall, but all salute the passing of each unofficial procession. The cry of fire went up, but as usual it was a policeman who had to do something about it. ~~And then the procession.~~

And so the second rehearsal concluded. London loves a show; Even a state coach empty can fill the early morning streets with countless hundreds in a mood of festivity.
