

and the racket fans are happy.

WIMBLEDON TENNIS.

Summer days have brought us Wimbledon again, [^] Tennis star Alice Marble took a newsreel of spectators with spectacles, before herself becoming the centre of attraction. [^] All the courts were busy with aspiring champions, but the first big match was between Miss Helen Jacobs and Miss Harvey. [^] Miss ~~Harvey~~ ^{Jacobs} served --- ~~and~~ ^{and} the big guns of the great little American title-holder were too powerful ^{for} Helen won, 6 - 2, 6 - 1. [^] The next match was between Miss Marble and Miss Hardwicke. Miss Marble in her white peaked cap, was well extended in a strenuous game, and she lost the first set 9 - 11. After a terrific fight Alice Marble won --- 9 - 11, 6 - 4, 6 - 3. Men's Doubles ^{France v England} --- Bernard [^] and Borotra of France --- Hughes [^] and Tuckey of England. This match sent the crowd into ecstasies of delight, for the veteran Borotra in his familiar beret was at the top of his acrobatic form. [^] The result was a win for Hughes and Tuckey ----- 6 - 4, 6 - 3, 16 - 14. [^]

Ma
Ma
to
ref