Robert Taylor plays yet another romantic role --- he captained the screen's leading men against the comedians in a Hollywood Charity beano. And here we go --- Mitchell and Durant take up a four-eyed stance. To those who don't know the rules, baseball looks crazy ~~any~~ anyway, but dash it all --- this can't be right. Now Spanky ~~Mr~~ McFarland of Our Gang is at the bat. Arkansas Clayton tries a bit of hooliganism, technically known as a razzle dazzle. Spanky spansk it a socko, and Vince Barnett follows up in case he has a breakdown. Speedy little Spanky steals a base, with an escort to see that nobody steals Spanky. The Ritz Brothers hoped for a sweeping victory --- you can't tell what they're thinking, but it looks like a twist. Now the pitcher sends one up to Bob and Robert sends it up in the air for a home run. The ball sails up and up --- Buster Keaton is in the outfield and his hands are dead safe when he gets them round the ball --- the ball is still sailing up and up --- girls, can you imagine ~~what~~ Bob Taylor hitting like that --- he must have gorgeous muscles --- the ball sails up and up ----- look out!
