

BEACH FASHIONS

Reflections in the water show that although it's winter still in Sydney they're thinking already of fashions for the coming summer. While we're putting on fur coats, they're preparing to give the boys a raw deal. And there's much the same thing going on on the island of Nugulofa --- native beauties doing a hula-dance in grass skirts. ^ But it's been a bad summer for grass, so they had to let down the safety curtain. / But for girls whose boy friends get too rough --- the girls of Seattle know what to do, It's jiu-jitsu of course --- after one lesson a girl can walk home alone. After two lessons she has to. This is what the modern girl does to her sweetheart --- if she can't break his heart she'll break his engagement. /
