

Dull weather was the keynote of the day for the Cambridgeshire --- almost the last of the big races of the flat season at Newmarket --- but there was a big field of twenty-six starters.

They're off! They left the gate in a fairly good order, with Daytona, Fairplay, Nadushka and Le Ksar well placed, but they ~~canvassed~~ kept together like a squadron of cavalry over the whole of the mile and a furlong gallop. At the Bushes there was nothing to chose --- it was one of the closest races on record ~~and~~ you might pick the winner from any one of a dozen. At the distance Artist Prince began to show himself --- Artist Prince began to forge ahead of Red Squaw and Inchkeith, and they kept that order to the post. Artist Prince won by a neck from Red Squaw, Inchkeith a head a way third. The triumph of this race was the Jockey's. Richardson on Artist Prince broke a bad-luck sequence of 84 losers.
