

DUKE OF GLOUCESTER-AND LEGIONS.

The Duke of Gloucester inspected 3,000 members of the British Legion at the Spa at Gloucester, and in a speech addressed to his comrades of the world war, made a powerful appeal in the ~~cause~~ cause of peace.

In this fellowship of the ex-Servicemen lies one of the most powerful instruments of peace. ~~xxxxxx~~ Whatever generation they may belong to --- they know what war ~~means~~ really means. At this gathering, British Legion and Chelsea Pensioners were inspected by Sir Ian Hamilton and Lord Chatfield. After the inspection, followed a march past of the Boys of the Old Brigade.

Their Fellowship stretches ~~from~~ across the broad Atlantic --- the American Legion, in Europe to pay homage to their fallen comrades, bring from the new world a new hope for world peace. They marched to Westminster, <sup>Abbey</sup> and then to the Mansion House, where at the home of the Lord Mayor they could not resist a peep through the window, <sup>to see</sup> But they were <sup>later</sup> introduced to the Lord Mayor, ~~and the Lady Mayoress,~~ And so, after the peace speeches of Presidents and Princes, we give you the simple appeal of the man in the street --- Mr John Smith of America, speaks to Mr John Smith of Great Britain.

As the <sup>the</sup> army of <sup>all nations</sup> ex-Servicemen marches on, we pray that ~~this~~ <sup>their</sup> example of fellowship ~~among nations~~ may spread through this sorry world of hatred and mistrust --- may spread their doctrine of peace among the nations of the earth.

from
really in
with
when