JEAN BATTEN.

Sydney --- as Jean Batten left for Port Darwin, Australia comments
-----~~SHADOW FACTORY.~~

SHADOW FACTORY.

Birmingham --- the Government scheme for shadow factories is going ahead with unqualified success. Engineering firms not normally engaged in making armaments have allocated part of their production to this work. ~~Where there used to be fields there are now these factories~~ helping to make Britain secure from attack. And from the Special areas of unemployment, have come the men who are now skilled workers and ~~paid~~ wage-earners.

ROME DISPLAY.

Rome --- on the 12th anniversary, the Italian Police held a Police Day, and a parade through the capital had Il Duce as guest of honour. The display included an exhibition <sup>of riding, with</sup> ~~of riding~~ horses that appeared to have a most unusual contempt for fire.

CHRISTENING.

London --- Queen Elizabeth was godmother to little Elizabeth, ~~daughter~~ daughter of the Honorable David and Lady Anne Rhys, who was christened at St. George's Hanover Square. Master Llewellyn, the ~~in~~ baby's brother, took an active part in the ceremony, being picked up and put down and slipping and weeping and ~~here~~ <sup>here</sup> whose christening is it?
