GOOGAN WEDDING.

Hollywood --- the wedding of Kackie Coogan, the former boy wonder of the screen. The Kid of Chaplin's days was being married to Betty Grable. So the little urchin who won fame in filmland, gets the girl of his dreams. Apart* Apart from that, he's twenty-three years old --- and a millionaire.

CHAUTEMPS.

Paris --- M. Chautemps, the Premier and M. Debos the Foreign Minister, were seen off by the British Ambassador when they left for London for the talks with British statesmen, at No. 10 Downing Street. As a result of these talks Germany may inxten be offered the return of some of her former colonies.

Mr Eden and the two French statesmen left later for lunch at Buckingham Palace.

CHINA.

Chaper --- Once the happy home of half a million souls,

Shanghai's outlying district is now a shattered sepulchre.

A palisade of steel rails erected against the advance of the Japanese tanks --- war-scorched walls --- everywhere debris and desolation. The city of death extends up to and evem beyond the boundaries of the International Settlement, where British soldiers are on duty, watched by the Chinese who found safety there.
