POLICE BOOTS.

London --- at the West India Dock the Police Sports Club gave shoes to the poor children of the neighbourhood. They also entertained them to tea, and what with champing jaws and squeaky shoes you couldn't hear yourself hiicough. It was a great afternoon, and a credit to the big-hearted man in blue. It brings tears to the general eyes to see a hefty sergeant pouring out tea. Let's hope it won't rot the shoes.
