

CAMBRIDGE AND OXFORD.

422

Early days of training for the Boat Race --- Cambridge, defeated last year after thirteen ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ years of victory, are getting into shape with skipping, weight lifting, and ~~xxxx~~ otherwise limbering up.

At Oxford the Dark Blues were having better weather when our cameraman called for these advance pictures of training. Following the two crews from which the Oxford eight will be chosen, we observe their form and style. Already they are well together. It looks as though Oxford rowing has found itself again.
