

RUGBY.

423

was

The crowd that swarmed into Cardiff Arms Park ~~for the rugby~~ ~~international against England~~ seemed as ~~you might suppose to be~~ ~~mostly Welsh~~ --- and of course they brought their own fruit, ~~with them~~.
The England fifteen took the field first at a spanking pace, but Wales came out at a dignified walk. England kicked off --- and almost immediately the white jerseys went into the attack. A fine tackle brought him down and Wales got the ball away and the attack swung into the England twenty-five. McCarley scored the Welshmen's first try.
A penalty against England was another chance for Wales, and Jenkins scored from forty yards. In the first half England scored a try which was not converted, and then Wales went over again. The official result was a win for Wales by 14 points to 8. But England was not done yet. ~~Calling on the referee~~ They raced the ball into the Welsh half and into the Welsh twenty five. The cry was Feet --- Feet ---. Nothing can stop him and he's over the line to score a magnificent try. Now bust it!