

SKATE SAILING.

Winter in New Jersey brought out the Association of Skate - sailers. It's a novel way of getting about but you have to be both a good skater and a good sailor. It's a tricky business; if there isn't any wind you can't go at all; if there's too much you keep on going until you hit something.

And here's the Red Jacket Club doing a ski-ing turn at Niagara Airport. Niagara's the place where a lot of Americans go for a honeymoon. It doesn't look as though these people went there for any rest cure.
