DUKE OF KENT'S CHILDREN.

London --- the son and daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Kent are back in town and here they are --- Prince Edward and Princess Alexandra taking a constitutional. They have been staying at Sandringham with the King and Queen, while their parents are in Austria.

BATHING BEAUTIES.

Texas --- They're celebrating the grape-fruit festival, and the queen throws one in the bathing pool for the rest to retrieve. After that it becomes a kind of free-for-all and the place gets littered with fruit like Battersea Park on a Bank holiday.

ICE MAN.

And in case you've wondered why there are seldom any men in a bathing belle picture, it's because they're naturally nervous. So when a Florida beach girl wants to get her man she has to have one sent from cold storage. Then she gives him a couple of melting glances with an oxy-acetylene blow-lamp and out comes a home-chilled boy friend like a lamb to the slaughter.

CUNNINGHAM REID.

London --- the end of a sensational law-suit brought by a Member of Parliament against his millionairess wife --- it was finally settled out of court. Here is Sir Stafford Cripps leaving --- and here is the plaintiff, Captain Cunningham Reid. The wife went by too rapidly for our cameraman, but ^{he got} ~~he got~~ a nice picture of the car.
