

KING GUSTAV.

Paris --- King Gustav of Sweden was received by the French President, M. Lebrun, when he visited the new Stadium at Porte St. Cloud. The occasion was the opening of the ~~new~~ indoor tennis courts, and King Gustav, who is himself a keen tennis player although he is nearly eighty, was an interested spectator.

LIFEGUARDS.

Miami --- the only beauty contest for men only. They are seeking the most beautiful man among the lifeguards who rescue drowning bathers off the famous beaches. The winner will be known as Mr Florida if there's any left. CALIFORNIA SKITTLES.

Long Beach --- what they call bowling in California, is said to be a favourite winter pastime --- so naturally it has to be played in bathing costumes.

ICE MAN.

And in case you've wondered why there are seldom any men in a bathing belle picture, it's because they're naturally nervous. The picture of the lifeguards was the exception. ~~that proved the rule,~~ so they had to put the winner in cold storage, ~~and~~ a couple of melting glances bring out a home-chilled man whenever they want him.

JULIANA'S BABY.

Holland --- celebrations over the birth of Juliana's baby reached as high a pitch of excitement in the country as they did in the capital and ~~other~~ other big cities. Among others, our Roving Cameraman sent over a picture of washing, ~~hanging~~ ~~and~~ ~~the~~ ~~the~~

but that doesn't prove a thing.
