SKATING? BOBSLEDDING, SKI-ING.

North American skating championships held New York in a three-day carnival of speed --- and one of the most exciting races was the 220-yard sprint for women. Near the finish it was a duel between Janet Milne and Helen Bahil, but Helen was the winner. She wiped up Janet while Janet wiped up the ice.

Now another bunch of thrills on the bobsled run... the ice-hard snow-track roars at the touch of flashing metal runners. It's the National Championships at Lake Placid --- and here's how they break records.

Over to France for the ski-championships in the Alpes Maritimes 5,000 feet up. ~~Two more feet up.~~ The Demahill race was won by a young Frenchman of 19 whose average speed was 43 miles an hour. But spills were the biggest thrills. Now hold your seats and watch ~~him go!~~
