

Surrounded at Pinewood by Wendy Hillier and Lady Oxford, Mr Bernard Shaw attended a lunch which marked the great Irish dramatist's first dialogue written specially for a film.

And he was invited to speak by Mr C.M. Woolf.

FILM STARS' GALA.

And now at night is a premiere which equalled the glories of Hollywood galas --- Will Hay was among those present --- and so was lovely Merle Oberon. Clive Brook was there and so was Conrad Veidt --- and then as a change from film stars --- a few words from the Bishop of London.

VARSITY SPORTS.

Ten thousand spectators saw the Varsity sports at the White City --- and it was a hammer and tongs meeting with the points closely contested. One of the best events was the 120 yards hurdles --- fought out to the last inch. It was won by J.P. Knight of Oxford and the scoreboard shows how close the points ran. Another big thrill came from the quarter-mile --- they got away with a rush like Mr A.P. Herbert's Marriage Bill --- Oxford won this meeting by 60 points to 57 --- but watch how A.G.K. Brown of Cambridge got his fourth consecutive victory by inches. Brown is nearer the camera --- and he's just beating Pennington --- it's a dead heat --- no, Brown wins --- Pennington collapses and the Cambridge mascot
