

DUKE OF GLOUCESTER.

440

The Duke of Gloucester inspected the 5th Royal Inniskilling Dragoon Guards at Colchester when they said good-bye to their horses on becoming a mechanized unit. The Old Colours were trooped and carried off. Then the new standard was consecrated by ~~the Chaplain General to the Forces~~. His Royal Highness ~~then~~ presented the new Standard to the Commanding Officer, Lt.- Col. Martin, after which he addressed the parade.

MANLY SURF BOATS.

At the Manly Surf Carnival, New South Wales, the most exciting and picturesque item was the race of the surf boats. In this game there's more difficulty in getting to the starting post than there is in the race itself. They don't mind getting wet, but if they get too wet they're in the water and out of the ~~XXXXX~~ running. It's a job for strength and skill, for cool heads and wet feet. And here comes a collision. There's another crew in trouble --- watch that man in the bows go overboard! And here's how it should be done --- riding shorewards on the crest of a silver wave!
