

GIRLS.

When summer sunshine comes along it's surprising how many things you find in the garden that you certainly didn't plant.

Never trust the picture on a packet of seeds. ~~but~~ <sup>times</sup> change--- and the ~~the~~ days when you put on your oldest clothes for gardening are gone for ever, ~~if this is an example.~~ To make a horticultural ~~hit among these primroses you should at least have a cellar and~~ ~~the~~ The modern girl is changing life all round. If you upset the boat you can't hope to effect a gallant rescue ~~in~~

~~the first place she can probably swim better than you can; or~~

~~if she can't she has a patent gadget for keeping afloat~~ ~~the~~

~~latest is the two-bounce, self-inflating bladder.~~ And out in California they're trying another experiment in the water.

What they want to find out is whether a human swimmer has more endurance than a fish. ~~What they will do when they find out~~

~~what they will do~~, But whoever wins, the fisherman is the loser.

That's what you think.

It all goes to show that women are no longer the weaker sex --- and here's one of the reasons why. ~~In Virginia, part of the girls' school's curriculum~~ ~~is~~ includes a lesson in boxing. ~~The women of tomorrow will be a tough~~ ~~proposition.~~ But with a pair of boxing gloves on, at least they ~~she~~ can't scratch. The only way we men can hold our own is by starting young. At Annapolis Naval Academy officers' babies are getting toughened up in preparation for whatever lies ahead. Here is the big bout of the evening. . . . a one-round contest between two human dynamos. If it's a points decision, there's nothing to choose. So it must be a knock-out.
