

669

VARSIITY ROWING.

----- ^{spring} ~~the~~ Oxford in ~~Maytime~~ is always at its best, and the beautiful University City on the Thames is an ideal spot for a river carnival. It is the week of Summer Eights when each college tries to bump its neighbour for the proud position of Head of the River. This year there were 28 crews in all raced in three divisions. / The scene on the towpath was full of colour-

The ~~sparkling~~ ^{sparkling} river and the ~~boathouses~~ ^{boathouses} ~~meered~~ ^{showed} under the ~~bank~~ ^{bank} ~~overshadowed~~ ^{by} great trees in their full summer foliage.

And youth was out for a holiday for the day- in this glorious springtime setting. / At the end of the racing, Trinity and Balliol finished Head of the River after a good race with New College and Magdalen.