

807

BOXING TOURNAMENT AT BELLE VUE.

Boxing fans were treated to some interesting fights with the gloves at a gala tournament at Belle Vue, Manchester.

First,-- a ten-round contest between Jimmy Gill-Fly-weight contender and Hugh Cameron, the new Champion of Scotland. ~~x~~

Amongst the many celebrities present was the Marquess of Queensberry who was responsible for the organisation of the of Cellant tournament.

Then Nel Tarleton-- Feather-weight champion of Great Britain, (the taller of the two,) v Jim Brady-- Bantam-weight champion of the British Empire. There was some good straightforward boxing here-- though nothing in the nature of a really spectacular affair. ~~/~~

Eventually Brady proved himself too good for the old ^{er} man, and he ran out the winner on points. ~~/~~

And lastly an exciting match ~~kickout~~ between Jackie Paterson-- Fly-weight champion of Great Britain and Kid Tanner-- the coloured boy-- Triple Champion of British Guiana. ~~/~~

Here again there was sound punching on both sides, and the result was a win on points for Jackie Paterson.