

CANADIAN NAVY KEEP WARM IN COLD WEATHER.

This is the largest Navy Training Centre in the British Empire --- and they believe in making our future sailors fit before they make them seamen. So it works in well with the cold weather and keeps them warm while it makes them healthy.

Another Naval Story comes from lower down the map; one of America's shipyards has just launched the world's largest battleship. The name --- Missouri. Forty-five thousand tons of fighting ship --- completed, like all American ships, ahead of schedule. Details of speed and armour and armament are still on the secret list, of course; no doubt in time the Japanese Navy will be given a special demonstration.

That brings us to the Far East front; and here in New York is another demonstration to help China. Patriots in Manhattan's Chinatown buy Bonds to help the war against Japan. China has held on for many years, keeping a large Japanese army well-occupied. We hope with these Chinese that the day of liberation is near.
