

Political unrest sweeps Soviet-controlled Eastern Berlin, following the satellite Government's decree, demanding ten per cent more output from the workers - or ten per cent less pay. The grievance flared up into large-scale riots - as ~~the~~ workers demonstrated against ~~xxxxxxofreedomxxxxxxand~~ ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ their Communist rulers.

And before the Russians intervened - to <sup>PATROL</sup> ~~maintain~~ the streets and proclaim martial law - the workers had torn down the Red Flag from the Brandenburg Gate. Large-scale arrests followed - and many were killed and injured. <sup>(1)</sup>
<sup>New</sup> ~~Today~~, East~~ern~~ Berliners (who want the freedom to choose their own form of Government) have been subdued - by armoured force.
