

2800 miles across the Atlantic- without surfacing. That's the astonishing achievement of the British Submarine "Andrew".

A sister ship of them the ill-fated "Affray", the "Andrew" had crossed from Bermuda to Britain- by using her "Snort" trenting breathing apparatus. And here's her gallant skipper- LtCommander David Scott-to answer questions about an event, which has made British naval history

Meanwhile great events were happening in the aircraft-carrier "Eagle", as the Queen passed in review at Spithead.

Mrs Joy McCracken- wife of the/Bo'sun- gave birth to a daughter.

Now, in a nursing home, mother and child are/doing fine, the baby's to be waited called Elizabeth a coulin't vor, well be called "Surprise".

Well, They coulded to call

Ker "Supiner"