

Southern Rhodesia welcomes the Queen Mother

GB 2036

Proudly displaying the Royal Coat of Arms, a special train brings to Bulawayo Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother and Princess Margaret - who are greeted at the station by the Mayor. (BRING UP)

Then, a triumphant drive through the beflagged streets, to Bulawayo's largest open-air sports arena, where the Queen Mother officially opens the great Rhodes Centenary Exhibition. A focus of world interest during the coming months.

The Royal Party pass through cheering crowds, to make a tour of this vast Exhibition.. On the way, a group of Africans with their calabash drums claims the attention of the Queen Mother. (BRING UP)

In the Mozambique Pavilion, two Portuguese girls - dressed in National costume - attract Royal interest. (BRING UP)

And at a garden party, held in the Municipal Park, two small girls offer the Royal guests - a gift of fragrant blooms. Here, old pioneers of Southern Rhodesia are presented to the Queen Mother. (BRING UP)

A pilgrimage now to Cecil Rhodes's grave - for a Service of Dedication - to mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of Rhodesia's Founder. The great Empire Builder, who came to Africa when he was only 15, is remembered with gratitude, in this lonely outpost among the hills he loved. (BRING UP)

Open Golf Championship at Carnoustie

The Open Golf Championship gets under way at Carnoustie, in Scotland, And Frank Stranahan, the U.S. A mateur, joins a mighty overseas challenge for the greatest of all golf titles. (BRING UP) Alf Padgham, the 1936 champion is competing. But main British hopes are vested in, among others, Dai Rees, of Wales. (BRING UP) And Max Faulkner - who won the crown two years ago. (BRING UP)

The Champion Bobby Locke is defending - heading a challenge that comes from the Commonwealth, America, Argentine and most of Europe. But the hottest favourite of all time is "Iceberg" Ben Hogan, the colourful American personality who was the idol of the gallery in the qualifying rounds. Hogan made a miraculous recovery from a motor accident, four years ago...Four times winner of the U.S. Title - he's finding Carnoustie - the toughest links in Britain - an opponent worthy of his skill.(BRINGUP)