GB 2044.

Sunshine, Seaside and Sport

5th August 53

AUGUST SUNSTIME AT HASTINGS, JUST A HOUDAY BY THE SEA OR THE of better things for Britein, Have we found the MAXINE beginning t silver lining after years of post-war struggle when everything seemed topsyturvy for us, too ..... Now the black clouds have gone. Cowes Week opened under blue skies that brought happiness to Britain's holiday coasts. Sut in this deal in the state of the set of the set of the set of the set MAKE -----BECALMED YACHTS, STE & restful scene - a sleepy symphony of sail ... you may think ... But come aboard the Hon. Max Aitken's yacht - "Lumberjack" and watch the busy scene - as long-practiced hands strive to trap every vestige of breaze

a light-westerly breeze,

he Duke of Edinburgh is gracing the occasion for the whole week of Magazina (SEEN HERE) Regattas, te all race the "flying fifteen" Coweslip, yacht ----"Bluebottle"

のないのであるというないであるのであると

1 States

IN COLUMN TWO IS NOT Back to the Lumberjack 7 Participant and the second of the first first for the Porty Charles and the and again, we see how "light" weather tests the helmsman's skill Christian and a state of the st

A COMPANY OF THE OWNER O The While there's an added thrill for The holidaymakers, as the Liner "Queen Mary" steams by - another graceful greyhound of the sea ....

At the famous resorts on the Isle of Wight - it was the same Bank Holiday story - a story of crowded beaches monservie and ly told A REAL PROPERTY AND A REAL

Among the week-end attractions was a Test Match at Arundel Park, Sussex ... where the Home Skipper, the Duke of Norfolk lost the toss to the Duke of Edinburgh.

Then, before a test-size crowd of twenty-five thousand, Prince Philip, with Australian acumen, put his rivals in to bat - and took up position in the slips. The Match was played on behalf of the National Playing Fields is the President. Association - of which

The Dake

Seaside, Sunshine and Sport (sheet two)

The the rivel shipper case in to set - The Duke of Edinburgh/decided to put himself on - bowling leg-breaks - and enthuciastly fielding his own bowling, too... After the Duke of Norfolk had made four rais - a cunningly-flighted ball pierced his defence

2044

The Duke of Norfolk declared the innings closed at 204 for six leaving the visitors two-end-a-half hours to make the runs. And to their credit - the Duke of Edinburgh's side made a brave effort to get them... The Duke, himself, hit three boundaries in a merry knock of guick eighteen. Though he was missed once - by a four throw-in. The Duke was finally bowled by George Cox of Sussex. The Duke of Norfolk's eleven won by seven runs, but the best total of all was well over £2,000 for a worthy organisation.

There was hectic sport, too, at Brands Hatch, Kent, where sixty famous Stabula FLP drivers burned up the track in ten races for baby cars... All the thrills were there - from massed starts - to single cars cornering at break-neck speeds

E Lewis Evans in his Cooper (No. 43) was placed in both the principal races, which were won by Don Parker in a Kieft.

A record crowd Control wetched the events - including a demonstration run by veteran racing cars. Control Control Control Control Control Control Control Control Control Control

Two crowded days of athletics, when Great Britain met France at the White City. The start of the Three Miles. Record-breaker Gordon Pirie and Freddy Green (in white vests) running for Britain.

Soon after the start - Pirie shoots ah ead ...

And he comes home alone - winning by eighty yards from Green - in 13 minutes 36.4 seconds. A time that shattered all his own records, and was only four seconds slower than the world record.

The 880 yards - with Roger Bannister - (the world's fastest-miler)running for Britain ...