Newmarket Town Plate

Newmarket - and clad in racing silks are ten girls and a boy - riders in the Newmarket Town Plate. The race (founded by Charles the II, in 1666) is both the oldest and the longest in the flat-racing calendar.

One rider was Miss Betty Richards - a name that won instant favour with the Bookies. It should do, she's the niece of Sir Gordon. And she duly <sup>BRITAIN'S CHAMPION</sup> <sup>SOCKEY.</sup> won the four-mile race on Chancellor - by fifteen lengths.

Betty became the first woman to <sup>win the race three times running</sup> ~~bring off a hat-trick~~ in the race. She also received a three-pound box of Newmarket sausages. Following in Uncle's footsteps - ~~who~~ <sup>who</sup> has so often brought home the bacon.
