Troops for Guiana--

Oct 10th. 1953.

This is Georgetown, the capital of the ~~British~~ Colony of British Guiana, whose constitution has been suspended by the British Government to prevent a Communist-inspired coup.

And leaving Scotland, to keep law and order in ~~this West Indian~~ the colony ~~trouble-spot~~ are the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders- bound for the port of embarkation.

The last/~~fond~~ farewells are especially poignant for TWO NEWLYWEDS ~~Mrs [illegible] her soldier husband.~~

~~Travelling southwards through the night, the Argylls arrived at~~ THE ARGYLLS TRAVEL SOUTH TO EMBARK ~~Devonport where led by the band of the Royal Marines they~~ AT DEVONPORT. AND AT THE ~~marched~~ Aircraft - ~~in the [illegible] Carrier Implacable~~ ~~for the start of their [illegible] voyage.~~ SAME TIME WE HEAR

~~And there's a warm greeting for the O.C. of the Regiment, Colonel Church, from Implacable's skipper.~~

~~In the broadcast, which~~ Sir Winston Churchill's words ABOUT GUIANA at the Conservative Conference ~~in~~ Margate ~~told of the early arrival of troops to Guiana~~ SOUND

~~Over At Margate, the Prime Minister continues, in humorous vein.~~

~~(Sound to end)~~.

TO A PACKED HALL AT THE ANNUAL PARTY CONFERENCE, ~~AT MARGATE~~ THE PRIME MINISTER CONTINUES HIS SPEECH IN HUMOROUS VEIN
