Troops for Guiana--

Oct 10th. 1953.

This is Georgetown, the capital of the ~~West Indian~~ Colony of British Guiana, whose constitution has been suspended by the British Government to prevent a Communist-inspired coup.

And leaving Scotland, to keep ~~law~~ <sup>the colony</sup> and order in ~~this West Indian trouble-spot~~ are the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders- bound for the port of embarkation.

The last/farewells <sup>fare</sup> are especially poignant for ~~many~~ <sup>TWO NEWLY WEDS</sup> ~~married a few weeks before he was a soldier~~ ~~in the~~ ~~Caribbean~~.

~~Travelling southwards through the night, the Argylls arrived at Devonport where~~ ~~led by the band of the Royal Marines~~ ~~in the~~ ~~Carrier Implacable~~ ~~AT DEVON PORT - AND AT THE~~ ~~AT THE~~ ~~same time we hear~~
Aircraft - ~~in the~~ ~~Carrier Implacable~~ ~~AT DEVON PORT - AND AT THE~~ ~~AT THE~~ ~~same time we hear~~

~~And there's a warm greeting for the O.C. of the Regiment, Colonel Church, from Implacable's skipper.~~

~~At the time, we hear~~ ~~Sir Winston Churchill's words at the~~ ~~Conservative Conference in Margate~~ ~~which tell of the early arrival~~ ~~of troops in Guiana~~ ~~(Sound)~~ <sup>ABOUT GUIANA</sup> ~~of troops in Guiana~~ ~~(Sound)~~ <sup>SOUND</sup>

~~At Margate, the Prime Minister continues, in humorous vein.~~ ~~(Sound to end).~~

TO A PACKED HALL AT THE ANNUAL PARTY CONFERENCE, ~~AT MARGATE~~ THE PRIME MINISTER CONTINUES HIS SPEECH IN 'HUMOROUS VEIN' <sup>SOUND TO END.</sup>
