

All-Blacks First Match in Britain.

New Zealand's high Commissioner welcomed his country's Rugby team, in the presence of the Duke of Norfolk, when they opened their tour against the Southern Counties, at Hove. But when the home skipper won the toss and gave the visitors (who kicked off) the benefit of the strong breeze some fans thought it was carrying hospitality too far (BRING UP)

Anyway the All-Blacks were grateful. They soon rattled on eight points - then Fitzgerald scored another try (BRING UP)

After more goal-points by Kelly - good work by McCaw paved the way for another try. Clark was the scorer (BRING UP)

And Kelly, the master-kicker, added the points, to put the All-Blacks twenty-one points up (BRING UP)

The second half, and dare we suggest that the scratch Counties side held their own? Or were the All-Blacks (despite this brilliant try by Jarden) trying not to outscore their welcome? (BRING UP)

We can't question the result, anyway. The Tourists won by 24 points to nil. So the All-Blacks are on the war-path once again (BRING UP)

Modern Tanks Mount All Obstacles.

One of the great lessons of the last war was the true value of the tank. Its rapid advances turned whole fronts - leaving chaos and defeat in its wake. But a tank has to be handled properly. Once it is bogged down it becomes just a liability. And though this demonstration at the Royal Armoured Corps. Centre, at Bovington, showed how modern recovery-vehicles come to the rescue, it also showed how a well-driven tank can surmount most obstacles and continue the advance (BRING UP)

Today, even a forty foot cliff is no defence against the Centurion Mark Three - our latest medium-gun tank. There was also a firing demonstration in which the gunners proved that having located the target - they could hit it (BRING UP)

Yes, the use of the tank has literally progressed by leaps and bounds - symbolising as it does, the strength that means peace (BRING UP)

The dependability of a rope of nodes when they are linked to clusters when the nodes are - is of course,